Santa Fe International Folk Art Market

More than 20,000 people will head to the foothills of New Mexico's Sangre de Cristo mountains beside the Museum of International Folk Art on July 11-12 for the Santa Fe International Folk Art Market. This bazaar-style market will offer around $2 million worth of wares created by 133 artists from 46 countries, from Afghanistan to Zambia. Highlights include silk shawls from northeastern India, filigreed jewelry from Uzbekistan and zigzag-patterned baskets woven by Zulu women in South Africa. In an altruistic twist, artists will keep 90% of the proceeds from their sales, organizers say, up from the typical 50% at other major art fairs.
